I trust you enjoyed the 20 mile route in Gloucestershire.

I must apologise for my error with the last two map references. It goes to prove that we all make mistakes - however experienced.

As explained at the start, it is not a race and you had until 2200 to get to the finish without penalty. All who finished managed that - just. Well done!

I have deleted any penalties for the board in North Pole Lane which went walkabout. The post was still there when I collected them all in afterwards.

Although is was tougher than some of these events in the past, I thought you all got round very well. Some new lanes for you too!

There will be another Night Nav in the spring, and let you know a date nearer the time.

Simon
